tion. He said that there are no plans to close schools and around 1241 there appears to be nothing to gain from such action.

When Hepatitis Strikes:

What happens when a hepatitis case is reported? A nurse from the Appomattox County Health Department visits the patient's home, makes an epidemiology report that includes finding out where the patient has been, who he knows, where he resides, and other pertinent information. She then makes recommendations to the patient and assists the physician in an attempt to locate other possible infected victims.

Sanitarian Steps In

The Virginia sanitarian makes an inspection of all homes where infectious hepatitis has been diagnosed. He checks water and sewage facilities.

Since the 1920's says G. A. Priesenberger, sanitarian, "state law requires that every dwelling in Virginia have a sanitary sewage disposal — either a sanitary privy or a properly constructed and maintained septic tank or other sewage system, enough removed from water supply to prevent contaminating them."

It is his opinion that "we're not going to stop hepatitis overnight." He states that everyone should take a good look at his sewage facilities and make an effort to prevent future outbreaks of hepatitis.

Says Dr. Clements, "Sanitation is a way of life."
